Context

Rooted in our Vision and Values, the shared organizational culture at Tata Steel serves as a powerful driver of our strategic ambitions. Through a thoughtfully designed and continuously evolving processes, we embed cultural elements that reflect our resolve and aspirations. The essence of "One Tata Steel" lies in uniting our strengths—operational excellence, engineering legacy and sustainability leadership while fostering a globally coherent culture.

As part of the One Tata Steel journey, we need to urgently galvanize our combined strength through personal change. While each geography had evolved its own set of practices and approaches, there was no single, unifying framework that could act as a consistent compass across the organisation. To address the same, extensive diagnostic interactions took place across geographies, engaging leaders and young professionals to understand what should be sustained, re-considered and aspired towards.

Subsequently, a unified Culture Code took shape which reflects the collective voice of the organisation and serves as the foundation for our Global Leadership Framework and associated behavioural expectations.

The framework anchored in the 4C Culture Code, is intended to:

- Drive strategic goals
- Align leadership and cultural standards across geographies
- Build leadership capability for the future
- Enhance decision-making
- Promote accountability and performance
- Support cultural cohesion across Tata Steel globally

By rooting our culture and leadership ideals in values and behaviours, and aligning them with One Tata Steel's strategic purpose, the framework provides a common standard for leadership and culture across all geographies, ensuring consistency, accountability, and a unified way of working.

This 360° Feedback Report provides behaviour-based insights aligned to the Culture Code. It reflects how your leadership behaviours are experienced by your stakeholders and how they align with the expectations of One Tata Steel.

The report is developmental in intent. It is designed to strengthen self-awareness, highlight behavioural strengths, surface perception gaps and support focused leadership growth.
